

A black and white line drawing of a window scene. The window is framed by curtains on both sides. Inside the window, there are two panes. The left pane shows a bird perched on a branch. The right pane shows a bird perched on a branch. Below the window, there are two vases on a windowsill, each containing a bouquet of flowers. A small bird is perched on the windowsill between the two vases. The text "Count Your Blessings, Not Problems" is written across the center of the image in a large, outlined font.
